A decorative tile sample, labeled 3016, is shown against a background of grey marble-look tiles. The sample is a square tile with a complex, multi-layered design. It features a central square area with a light beige, textured surface. This central area is surrounded by a wide border composed of several distinct patterns: a wide band of horizontal lines, a section with a fine grid pattern, and a wide band of vertical lines. The entire design is framed by a decorative border with a repeating geometric pattern of interlocking shapes. The overall aesthetic is modern and sophisticated.
